What you need to provide:

Content (Word or email)

Note: that we do not alter your text in any way, however, we do provide some free advice on changing words/sentences so you can create maximum impact from your newsletter. Minor text changes (correcting typo's etc are also free of charge).

Images you would like included in your newsletter

Generally, most of our customers email through the images they would like included in their campaign.

Images really add impact to your newsletter and we suggest that suitable images are sourced for each campaign.

We can also source images for you depending on your needs, using online stock photography websites. There are some amazing images available online that will really enhance the messages in your newsletter.

Your database of email addresses (Excel or Word document)
